

Carletta Waddler, Member-at-Large

Carletta Waddler is the Senior VP of Talent Curve Solutions, LLC. Talent Curve is a woman-owned small business that provides career counseling and personal development training for businesses, organizations and the federal government. Verizon and the United States Coast Guard are two area clients. Ms. Waddler attended Howard University and graduated with a degree in communications. She started her career in sales eventually progressing to sales management and general management. She worked in TV and radio.

Ms. Waddler's responsibility and career has spanned from CEO of businesses, to staff development, recruitment, and training of two large career-counseling call centers for the department of defense. She currently is responsible for corporate business development. She has the unique prospective of a business owner and a small and large business executive.

Ms. Waddler has won countless awards including the coveted Echoes of Excellence media award. Ms. Waddler has served on the board of the d'ART Center in Norfolk, the H.E.R. shelter in Portsmouth, and the past president of the National Council of Negro Women in Northeastern North Carolina. She currently serves on the River City CDC board in Elizabeth City, N.C., a member of the Links Inc., and on the Hampton Roads Chamber of Commerce board.