

Eileen Livick, Service Unit Delegate

Eileen Livick is a Transportation Specialist for the Department of Defense. She has been with the Naval Facilities Engineering Systems Command for the last 36 years assisting the United States Navy with their transportation requirements.

Eileen is a third generation Girl Scout, a Lifetime member, a member of the Juliette Gordon Low Society, and a 27 year Girl Scout volunteer. She currently leads a troop of Ambassadors in the Kempsville service unit, serves as a GSCCC National Delegate, is a member of the Sustainability Task Group, and is the council's Girl Scout Destinations Coordinator. Eileen has taken girls on several international trips to more than 15 countries and has advised other councils regarding travel opportunities for Girl Scouts. Eileen has been recognized with many adult volunteer awards, most recently the Thanks Badge II.

She, and her husband J, live in Virginia Beach and are the proud parents of two Bronze, Silver & Gold awardee daughters. They enjoy spending as much time as possible with their 8 grandchildren.
