

Amy Coyne, Member-at-Large

Ms. Coyne has over 25 years of experience and has held several leadership roles touching all facets of the tactical and apparel industry. In her current position as Chief Executive Officer of Revision Military Ltd, Ms. Coyne is responsible for one of the largest suppliers of ballistic and laser protective eyewear to U.S. and Allied militaries and law enforcement agencies globally. In this role, she is responsible for establishing the strategic vision, overseeing the operation, and executing the business growth objectives for Revision. Amy also previously held the position of Chief Executive Officer of Wild Things, LLC under the ownership of private equity firm, Asgard Partners & Co. Amy recently left this position in August 2020 due to the acquisition of Wild Things, LLC by National Safety Apparel.

Prior to joining Wild Things, Ms. Coyne was the Vice President of the Organizational Clothing and Individual Equipment (“OCIE”) Market with ADS Inc. In that role, Ms. Coyne oversaw the entire OCIE market category for ADS, the premier equipment, procurement, support, and logistics solutions specialist to the U.S. Military and Department of Defense (“DoD”). She was responsible for establishing the strategic vision and developing executable plans for the OCIE market.

Prior to ADS, Amy was President and CEO with Propper International. In this position, Ms. Coyne was responsible for leading and overseeing one of the largest official apparel and gear suppliers to the U.S. Armed Forces, which has manufactured over 120 million garments for the U.S. DoD - Army, Air Force, Navy, Marines, Coast Guard and Special Forces and law enforcement and tactical retail stores across the country.

Her additional work experience includes positions with ADS as Vice President of Integration Programs responsible for program management of long-term contracts, Skips Clothing Company as Vice President of Production Control supplying private label product to the fashion retail market, Kmart Corporation as Global Sourcing Director for the Western Hemisphere and Gap Inc. as Senior Sourcing Manager and Knit Products Engineer. Ms. Coyne is a graduate of Philadelphia College of Textiles & Science with a Bachelor of Science in Textile Engineering and has a Master of Science in Textile Technology from the Institute of Textile Technology.

Amy is a lifetime Girl Scout. In addition to personally participating in the program as a Brownie, Junior and Cadette Girl Scout, Amy also contributed as an adult volunteer in various positions including Troop Leader (Brownie, Junior, Cadette) and Neighborhood Chair with Girl Scouts Heart of Pennsylvania. She also participated on the Women's Leadership Network, Dessert First and Camping Utilization Committees with Girl Scouts of Eastern Missouri. Amy is looking to continue participation through board membership and committee participation with Girl Scouts of the Colonial Coast. Amy would like the opportunity to give back to Girl Scouts in return for the influence it had on her personal development and resulting professional success. She believes acting as a board member will provide her the best opportunity to influence the strategic direction of the Girl Scouts of the Colonial Coast.
