

Carletta Waddler, Member-at-Large

Carletta Waddler is the Senior VP of Talent for Curve Solutions, LLC. Talent Curve is a woman-owned small business that provides career counseling and personal development training for businesses, organizations and the federal government. Verizon and the United States Coast Guard are two area clients.

Ms. Waddler attended Howard University and graduated with a degree in communications. She started her career in sales eventually progressing to sales management and general management. She has worked in TV and radio. Ms. Waddler's career has spanned from CEO of businesses to staff development, recruitment, and training of two large career-counseling call centers for the department of defense. She is currently responsible for corporate business development. She has the unique perspective of a business owner and a small and large business executive.

Ms. Waddler has won countless awards including the coveted Echoes of Excellence media award. Ms. Waddler has served on the board of the d'ART Center in Norfolk, the H.E.R. shelter in Portsmouth, and is a past president of the National Council of Negro Women in Northeastern North Carolina. She currently serves on the River City CDC board in Elizabeth City, NC and is a past member of the Elizabeth City Links.