

Co-op Troops

Make treasured memories as you prepare Girl Scouts for a lifetime of leadership and success. Meet inspiring kids and their families, share incredible adventures, and create opportunities to learn and grow. You and your cooperative adults become the mentors you had (or wished for) growing up, who help the next generation achieve their dreams and make the world a better place.

Benefits of Co-op Troops

Shared Responsibility

Low pressure, high reward.
Share the joy and the load with other invested families.

Shared Perspectives

Highlight the unique makeup of your troop, their families, and your community.

Strengthen Community

Work together to make a positive impact and build connections where you live.

Roles Needed for Success

Troop Coordinator*:

Assists the troop by managing the roles and responsibilities of the troop volunteers. Serve as the "head" of the troop and oversee troop roles and functions.

Troop Program Coordinator*:

Help maintain schedule and plans for badge work. A troop may have multiple program planners to assist.

Troop Treasurer:

Leads the maintenance and management of troop dues, cookie proceeds, and banking.

Troop Communicator:

Attends local service unit meetings, reports to all adult leadership, and shares important info with the troop.

Product Manager:

Leads the implementation and execution of the Fall Product Program and the Girl Scout Cookie Program within your troop.

Troop Helper:

Assists with troop responsibilities as needed. May be asked to assist with supervision at troop meetings, events, or overnight travel trips.

Together, you'll introduce Girl Scouts to new experiences that show them they're capable of more than they ever imagined — and so are you! Start your adventure today.

*Our system may require the use of terms like Troop Leader or Assistant Troop Leader be assigned for access to some resource tools.
